Module: Introduction

Introduction Video – Transcript

Welcome to the Faculty Online Readiness modules. Here at eConcordia/KnowledgeOne, we are the gateway for all fully online credited courses at Concordia University.

Since 2000, eConcordia has had the great privilege of collaborating with Concordia teaching staff, co-creating more than 125 online courses. Our team of dedicated experts knows exactly what it takes to bring high-quality online learning experiences to life. So, as part of our continued commitment to serving the Concordia community, we have crafted a series of modules that provide an overview of who we are, the steps involved in building a course with us, and what you need to know in order to deliver the best possible learning experiences for your students.

- Part 1—About eConcordia and Online Courses—offers information about our company, dispels some myths and misconceptions.

- Part 2—Creating an Online Course—goes into further detail about our online course development process, and outlines how to prepare for your first meeting with us.

- Part 3—Teaching an Online Course—draws on a range of topics, such as effective online teaching pedagogy, online tools and activities that are possible on our platform, and strategies for promoting academic integrity within an online learning environment.

Recognizing how busy you are, we have designed the modules so that they last between 5 and 15 minutes, depending on the module.
